

ALEXANDRIA.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, JANUARY 9.

REPRESENTATIVE OATES, of Alabama, says he believes the North's animosity towards the South is stronger now than at any time during the last fifteen years, and that organizations of veterans and of the sons of veterans actually marched as such under political banners during the recent political campaign. It all this be so, and unfortunately there is not much ground to doubt it, the fate of the country is by no means enviable, for hate naturally begets hate, and hate soon manifests itself by overt acts. Mr. Oates' remedy is a foreign war; but if the animosity referred to equal his representations, it is not beyond the range of possibility that such a remedy might be even worse than the disease.

THE LONG standing strike on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad has at last been declared off. The railroad will retain all the employees who took the places of the strikers, and will promote them to fill vacancies, but agrees that when it shall want more hands it will not discriminate against such of the strikers as have not resorted to violence. Such a termination of the strike, in view of the trouble and inconvenience, if not actual suffering, to which the strikers have been subjected by the loss of a year's wages, naturally suggest the enquiry, why was it ever begun? The railroad company will make up its loss by increasing its charges and reducing the wages it pays; but the strikers can never make up theirs.

A NEGRO in Florida says he thinks the best way to settle the Southern question would be to colonize the negroes of the South in the Northern States. To remove all the negroes from the South to the North would effectually settle the Southern question, for then the South would soon be filled by white people from the North, but it would immediately raise a Northern question, compared to which the existing Southern question is a bagatelle, for the Northern people would not endure half the annoyance and trouble, naturally incident to race prejudices, which their Southern fellow citizens have borne so long and so patiently.

DIVORCE, that is, tandem polygamy, has become such a prevalent custom in the North that both the press and pulpit of that section are raising their voices against it, and are advising the adoption of various means for its suppression, though neither has as yet suggested as one of those means the exclusion of the States in which the obnoxious custom is practiced from the Union as they both do in respect of Utah, where polygamy is not so prevalent, and where it is conducted, not on the tandem, but on the abreast plan.

JUDGE HUGHES, of the U. S. Court, having no idea of retiring from the bench during his allotted term, it may not be amiss to say that he has most ably and satisfactorily filled the position, and that his decisions and rulings have met with the approbation of those capable of giving righteous judgment in legal matters. The judge has an active and brilliant mind and is in no way weakened by personal feelings. His most bitter political opponents must concede his ability and impartiality.

THE FRIENDS of Gen. Mahone in this State and throughout a portion, at least, of the South and West, "are moving vigorously in his behalf" for a cabinet position, while his adversaries in and out of the State—and they are not few and insignificant—are as actively engaged in endeavoring to frustrate their object. Between the contending factions it is more than probable the General will fall, but his disappointment will doubtless be assuaged by the tender of a foreign appointment.

THE HEROISM displayed in the recent Haytian affair is well expressed in the following apt verse:

Father, and mother and I,
And ten stout soldiers more,
Beat an old woman stone blind,
Who couldn't see much before.

From Washington.

(Special Correspondence of the ALEX. GAZETTE.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 9, 1889.

A well known democrat recently returned from a visit to Warrenton, Va., says the prevailing feeling among the democrats there on the subject, is against an extra session of the Virginia legislature. On the contrary, a Virginia congressman when asked by the GAZETTE's correspondent to day what he heard from Richmond on the subject, replied, that so far as he knew the feeling there was in favor of an extra session, and that he understood the chief object of such a session would be to amend the election laws.

A gentleman from Alexandria county here to day told the GAZETTE's correspondent he believed that if that county had good roads, land there would be as valuable as the land north of Washington city, in Montgomery county, Md. He said Alexandria county had the advantage in many ways, especially as far as health and views of the city and river were concerned. He also said that the three most important things to be done for the county would be the building of the memorial bridge from Arlington to Washington; the construction of the Mount Vernon Avenue, and the improvement of the Arlington estate by the government.

The committee appointed by the Southern republican conference held here recently to confer with the Southern republicans in their respective States in regard to their preference for a Southern member of the cabinet will meet to-night. It is understood that the committee's information is to the effect that if the postoffice portfolio be given to the South, General Mahone would be their favorite. Representative Bowden is the Virginia member of the committee, Mr. Harrison having replied favorably to a letter asking if he would receive a delegation to talk on the subject, that delegation will leave here to-morrow night for that purpose. Among the Virginians who, it is said, will go, are ex Mayor Lamb, of Norfolk, ex Attorney General Blair, of Weytheville, and ex Postmaster Windsor, of Alexandria.

The conference committee on the Agricultural bill had a meeting this morning. Some of its members think the Senate will agree to the transfer of both the signal and the geological bureaus to the proposed Agricultural Department.

In the House yesterday General Lee succeeded in reporting from the House District of Columbia Committee his resolution appropriating $10,000 for an ice boat on the Potomac. It is the General's intention to try to get the Senate Appropriations Committee to add this appropriation to the sum dry civil bill.

Several members of the Virginia State democratic committee are in the city to day on their way to Richmond to attend a called meeting of that committee to-morrow. They seem to be undecided about the advisability of calling an extra session of the Virginia legislature, but say that if such a session be called it will be to amend the election laws, to impose further restrictions upon the receipt of coupons in payment of taxes, and to elect the school superintendents for the next four years.

The Senate has not concurred with the House amendments to the Nicaraguan canal bill, for the reason that those amendments, by requiring payment for the stock and relieving the government of all responsibility, will destroy the value of the charter. The Senate has asked for a conference committee on the bill, but it is generally understood that the House will insist upon its amendments.

In the Senate to day the bill to authorize the Secretary of the Navy to investigate the claim of the Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal Company for tolls during and after the war, and if found to be valid to pay the same to the extent of $3,742, was reported favorably without amendment.

The subcommittee of the Senate finance committee, to whom has been referred the direct tax bill, are waiting for a letter from the Secretary of the Treasury before making their report upon it.

Among the guests of the Ebbitt House were Mrs. James Lyons and daughter, of Richmond. Mrs. Lyons is the daughter of William Wirt Henry, of Richmond, who is a grandson of Patrick Henry.

VIRGINIA NEWS.

The democratic State committee will meet to-day to-morrow night.

The stockholders of the C. & O. R. R. met in Richmond yesterday and elected directors.

The Harrison and Morton club of Norfolk is tonight endorsing General Mahone for a cabinet position.

Mumps is raging among the students of Roanoke College, Salem. About fifteen boys are confined to their rooms.

Two Red Springs buildings were nearly destroyed by fire on Monday. Loss $50,000. The wife of Postmaster Hickling was killed by falling timbers.

The Governor yesterday accepted the resignation of Judge Henry T. Parrish, of the County Court of Appomattox, and has designated Judge Watkins, of the county of Prince Edward, to hold court on the 10th instant.

The truckers about Norfolk have all hired their hands for the season running from January 1st to September 1st, and will soon be busy on the various crops for spring shipment. They never had finer weather for growing their winter crops of kale and spinach and cabbage.

Governor Lee, when asked yesterday if he was prepared to say whether he intended to call an extra session or not, replied that he had nothing to say further than what he had said on this subject before; he would not call an extra session unless he deemed it positively necessary for the good of the State.

A petition was filed in Harrisonburg yesterday in the United States Court by Frank S. Blair and others, assignees of G. R. Pool, asking the court for a mandamus against the town of Pocahontas, to compel the said town to levy a tax to provide for the payment of a judgment of $1,000 rendered against the town in favor of G. R. Pool, in the United States Court, in a damage suit for false imprisonment.

ASSAULTED WITH A COWHIDE.—Allen B. Carty, one of the proprietors of the Frederick, Md., Times, was assaulted with a cowhide in the Carlin House at Frederick last night by James D. Baker, president of the Citizens' National Band. Carty yesterday sent a report of a rumored swindling case, in which Mr. Baker was said to have suffered a loss of $5,000 by the purchase of a farm near Leesburg, Va. Mr. Baker, who alleges that the item was untrue, sent for Carty, who is a delicate young man, quiet and unassuming, and while the latter was endeavoring to show that the error had been unintentional, Baker, who is a tall, muscular man, pulled out a cowhide and proceeded to lay it heavily on Carty's head and shoulders. Carty did not offer any defense, and it is thought, will take legal action in the matter.

A BRIDE RETURNS TO SCHOOL.—Mr. S. D. Hicks, jr., of Richmond, and Miss H. O. Woodward, of Charlottesville, were married last Thursday evening in Washington at the residence of Dr. Sunderland, in the presence of a large number of friends. The bride is a cousin of President Harrison and "Jack" Mosby and niece of the late Bishop Lee, and a young lady of rare accomplishments. After being entertained at a reception tendered by their friends, Mrs. Hicks returned to her school in Loudoun, where she will remain until the close of the session. Mr. and Mrs. Hicks expect to settle in New York after the summer.—Richmond State.

TRoubles in HAYTI.—Three battles have been fought and lost by the Legation in Hayti in the past ten days. Reports of defeats and desertions have raised to a high pitch of excitement the inhabitants of the section around Port au Prince, and hence Legation is imprisoning all the possible leaders in the revolt against him. Without law life or property is unsafe in that section. Excesses of every kind are the rule. The horrid cannibalistic rites of voodooism are revived, and reports reach that city of a meeting of several thousand Christians night, next, in Jacmel, the seat of a young girl and the greedy voodooism.

General Hyppolite, having been elected and declared provisional President by the Central and Northern departments on his capture of the capital, will demand a Congress of Deputies from all the departments and the election of a permanent President, denouncing Legation's election unconstitutional and void. He will probably, then, be the sole candidate in the field. It is claimed that Legation has appropriated to his own private purse all the remainder of the cash in the treasury, and will fly by his fastest gunboat as soon as his fall is assured fact.

So far no ice has been made anywhere in the vicinity of New York.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

M. Melin was yesterday elected President of the French Chamber of Deputies. Gov. Cooper, of Colorado, was inaugurated at the Trinity Methodist Church in Denver yesterday.

The California legislature permanently organized at Sacramento yesterday. The democrats control both Houses.

A new Joss house in Mott street New York was consecrated by the localized Chinese clans there yesterday.

Capt. Howard, of the Maryland steamer Gov. McLane, yesterday arrested three vessels for dredging in Chester river.

The reports concerning the condition of the King of Holland are greatly exaggerated. The King, though ill, transacts business daily.

Rev. Edmund Didier recently sent to Cardinal Gibbons his resignation as pastor of St. Vincent's, Baltimore, but the Cardinal refused to accept it.

There is a movement on the part of several republican leaders in Ohio to secure a place in General Harrison's Cabinet for ex President Rutherford B. Hayes.

Court Marshal Goode of New York was fatally shot through the body yesterday by Gustave Simon while he was leaving on the latter's goods to satisfy a judgment for debt.

The Hon. Joseph Chamberlain and his bride received a most cordial greeting from the people of Birmingham, England, last night. The reception was held in the town hall.

Corker Hill, the beautiful country residence of Vice President Frank Thompson, of the Pennsylvania Railroad, near Philadelphia, was totally destroyed by fire yesterday.

Pinckney Floyd, a mulatto youth sixteen years old, murdered Cornelius Lawden, also colored, at the door of the colored Methodist Church in Abbeville county, S. C., Sunday morning.

The Pope has congratulated Emperor William of Germany, President Carnot of France and Premier Tiza of Hungary upon their recent declarations that European peace would continue.

An incendiary, who is supposed to be a lunatic, has alarmed the farmers in Pennsylvania, just over the Maryland border, by burning barns by means of an egg filled with explosive powder.

Captain Williams, of the steamship Montana, in Baltimore yesterday died a rebel against the steamship Maine, charging $200,000 for damage to the ship and $150,000 for her cargo. The Montana was sunk in Baltimore harbor by the Maine last week.

A dastardly attempt to blow up the royal palace was made at Madrid yesterday. Fortunately no one was injured, and the only damage done was the smashing of many windows. The petard with which the attempt was made was exploded on the staircase of the palace.

Gov. Fleming, of Florida, was inaugurated at Tallahassee yesterday. A prominent feature of the parade was a column of Union and Confederate veterans, the latter including members of the Confederate regiment in which both the outgoing Governor, Perry, and the incoming Governor, Fleming, served.

Mrs. Margaret Schneider, an aged German woman, who resided with her granddaughter, in the northern annex of Baltimore, was brutally assaulted yesterday afternoon at her home. She died last night at the City Hospital from her injuries. A white woman who was known as Ida, and who had been in Mrs. Schneider's employ as a servant since Thursday last is charged with the assault. Mrs. Schneider had been living alone with the servant for a week, her granddaughter having gone to Philadelphia.

The two houses of the West Virginia legislature assembled in biennial session to day. The democrats will organize the House and the republicans the Senate, in which they have a one majority, but on joint ballot the democrats hold one majority, and if nothing should prevent will elect a United States Senator to succeed Senator Kennen. It is believed an extra session will be called after the 45th day allotted by law for the legislature to remain in session. Silas Smith, republican member of the House of Delegates of Tyler county has tendered his resignation on account of sickness. A republican successor will be elected, but it complicates affairs in the legislature.

"When the robins nest again," she said, "I suppose my cold will get well." So he felt very sad, but suddenly he thought him of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. The cough was cured and those two were happy.

Proceedings of Congress.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 9.
SENATE.

The House amendments to the Nicaragua canal bill, on motion of Mr. Sherman, non-concurred in, and a conference was asked.

Sensors Sherman, Edmunds and Morgan were appointed conferees on the part of the Senate.

The House bill for the relief of the Altamira and Chesapeake Canal Company was reported back favorably from the Committee on Naval Affairs and was placed on the calendar.

The Senate at 12:20 resumed consideration of the tariff bill.

That Mr. Weaver, of Iowa, is earnest in his intention to do all in his power to prevent the House from accomplishing any business until it has finally acted upon the Oklahoma bill was demonstrated this morning. Immediately after the Chaplain's prayer Mr. Weaver called the Speaker's attention to the first rule of the House, which directs that officer, after calling the House to order, to cause, upon the appearance of a quorum, the journal of the last day's sitting to be read. He raised the point of order that the journal could not be read until it was apparent that a quorum was in attendance.

The Speaker sustained the point and directed the Clerk to call the roll. One hundred and ninety members responded to their names, but before the Speaker could direct the reading of the journal Mr. Weaver projected other dilatory motions.

Decision Against the Sugar Trust.
NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Judge Barrett in the Supreme Circuit Court to day rendered a decision in favor of the Attorney General and against the sugar trust. The suit was brought by the people of the State of New York against the North River Sugar Refining Company by Attorney General Tabor to forfeit the charter of the North River Company of this city on the ground that it had virtually passed out of existence by selling out all its stock to the sugar trust combinations and closing up all its works. The action was brought by Attorney General Tabor for the forfeiture and dissolution of the charter of the North River Sugar Refining Company because it had exceeded its powers and franchises in becoming a member of the sugar trust. Counsel for defendants took an exception to the ruling of the court.

Explosion.
SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Jan. 9.—About one o'clock yesterday afternoon an explosion of giant powder occurred at a place on Washington street, which is being graded, just as James Collins was preparing a cap for the blast. There were three or four pounds of the powder in a box near where Collins was preparing the blast. This exploded, horribly mangling Collins, but not killing him outright. One leg was splintered by flying rocks and a large hole torn in the flesh, four ribs were broken and his face and eyes blown full of sand. He died shortly afterward. Cause of the explosion unknown.

A Fatal Dispute.
SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Jan. 9.—E. A. Matthews, a wealthy general merchant of Walnut Shade, Ark., was instantly killed in the White river bottoms, near the Missouri line, yesterday afternoon. Matthews was hunting deer, and he and a man by the name of Strong fired at a large buck almost simultaneously. In the dispute which arose over the possession of the animal Matthews was brained by Strong, who struck him with the butt end of his rifle. Strong escaped to the woods.

Inauguration.
TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Jan. 9.—The inauguration of Governor Frank P. Fleming yesterday was one of the grandest demonstrations ever witnessed in Florida. The entire militia of the State was in attendance and thousands of people from all parts of Florida were present. Last night there was a grand ball at Leon Hotel which was the most brilliant social event since ante-bellum days.

Removal of McMullen.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Mr. Lewis McMullen, appraiser at New York, was requested to resign, but refused to do so. The President has therefore directed his removal from office. Mr. A. B. Stearns, the appraiser at Boston, has been temporarily placed in charge of the New York office.

Steamer Sunk.
LONDON, Jan. 9.—The steamer Leverington, while lying at anchor in the Mersey, was run into and sunk by the British steamer Lualaba, from the west coast of Africa. No body was killed. The Lualaba was badly damaged and was beached to prevent her from sinking.

Collapse of a Building.
PITTSBURG, Jan. 9.—During the prevalence of a heavy wind and hail storm here, a new building in course of erection collapsed, carrying everybody down with it. It is rumored that eight or ten men were killed.
